Névio C. Magagnin

Full-stack developer

About

Software developer for almost three years, I started when I was 17 years old as an intern and reached the position of front-end developer by recommendation. I am currently seeking to achieve my professional goal of becoming a Software Engineer and for that I always seek to improve my skills as a developer.

My best skills are on the front-end with React, React Native and design creation (UI / UX), but I am very good with back-end development as well.

I'm looking for a new opportunity because I want to continue my personal and professional growth in a new and challenging environment where I can learn a lot more.

I will do my best to fulfill all expectations!
